The MOUNT 1956

Published by the Senior class of Mount St. Mary's College
Los Angeles, California

A door

One day
you decided to come to college.

And the place you chose
was the Mount.

That's what this book is about—the things that happened
because of that decision.

It seemed to us
that decisions
are like doors.

They open life to you . . .

In the offices you found a new administration
to guide the Mount
through new problems.

it was the faculty

that made the Mount so special—
It was hard to tell—
but not hard to realize that your own mind
had awakened . . .
through contact with theirs
and that their enthusiasms had aroused yours

So finally it was over—
for a summer at least . . .
or maybe for good.

And it seemed suddenly
that the end
was more important than the beginning.
A door had opened . . .
a door closed behind you . . .
and there were more doors to come.
